LLOYD W. KUHN NEW MEMBER OF HOSPITAL BOARD

Lloyd W. Kuhn, Bendersville, was elected a director of the Annie M. Warner Hospital at a meeting of the board Friday evening in the Muselman Annex building of the hospital. Mr. Kuhn will fill the unexpired term of Guy A. Stock, also of Bendersville, who resigned because of ill health, after many years of service to the hospital.

Richard Livingston, New Oxford, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, John A. Hauser, Biglerville.

The directors acknowledged with thanks many gifts to the hospital including a $1,200 contribution from the Women's Auxiliary; $1,205.53 from the Adams County Cancer Society for the purchase of equipment, and $2,327 from the Muselman Foundation for the installation of new doors on the elevator in the Muselman Building.

Also acknowledged with the board's thanks was a sum of nearly $2,600, the residue of a $10,000 trust set up ten years ago by Mrs. Louella Muselman Arnold which provided that the sum be paid to the YWCA for the services of an executive secretary over a period of ten years with the provision that any unexpended balance go to the hospital. The trust, administered by the Gettysburg National Bank, expired December 31, 1952, and the nearly $2,600 residue was paid over to the hospital.

New Sidewalk Built
The directors thanked the fraternal and veteran organizations of Gettysburg for their contribution of the new sidewalk on Washington St. The walk is completed with the exception of a small section which awaits delivery of suitable memorial plates.

Of nostalgic interest was the gift from the Women's Auxiliary of the trowel used by the late Mrs. Annie M. Warner in laying the cornerstone of the original hospital building. The trowel is encased in a glass-topped box with an engraved plate, and will be displayed on the wall of the original hospital building.

A study of the reports of the last three months showed occupancy during November and December in the low 60's, with January showing a slight increase to 65 per cent occupancy. Earned income for the three months was $68,634.21 while actual expenses were $70,735.71. Cash income for the same period including the donations previously noted, plus $2,500 from the Adams County commissioners and approximately $2,700 of state appropriations, was $74,565.87. Cash expenditures were $72,734.69.

Executive Director Walter R. Doud said donations of $7,999.53 reduced the hospital loss for the fiscal year starting June 1, 1952, to February 1, 1953, to $972.69. He said the hospital had maintained its cash position at the June 1 level during the same period.

The regular quarterly report of the Blue Cross again revealed Warner Hospital operating at the highest degree of efficiency in the area. The report indicated Warner costs are 99.8 per cent of Blue Cross collections indicating that the hospital Blue Cross rates are actually at cost level. The report noted some hospitals in the study have costs that are 130 per cent of Blue Cross payments.

ASK FARMERS FOR LABOR NEEDS

The Adams County Farmers' Association Friday announced a meeting to be held in the fire hall at Gap Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock at which arrangements will be made for the importation of Puerto Rican laborers for the coming season.

Farmers seeking Puerto Rican labor are asked to attend the session to list the number of agricultural workers they will require and make arrangements for the dates on which they will need the workmen.

Sponsored by the various groups making up the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association, of which the Adams County Farmers Association is a part, the meeting is being held to set up an organization to bring Puerto Rican workers to Pennsylvania for the summer season and pay for setting up a camp probably near Reading, and other costs in connection with transporting the workers from Puerto Rico to Pennsylvania and return.

Because it is expected the meeting will run past the noon hour arrangements are being made to provide a noon meal at a cost of $1.50 at the Gap session. Porter Taylor of the national Farm Bureau organization will speak on the outlook for vegetables and other crops. Roy Wengert will have charge of setting up the arrangements for the Puerto Rican labor camp.

GIVE CHARTER TO CUB PACK 79 FRIDAY NIGHT

Approximately 70 persons, including Cubs, parents and guests attended the covered dish supper held for Cub Pack 79 at St. James Lutheran Church Friday evening. Guests at the annual affair were Dr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh; Walter Morse, district commissioner of the Black Walnut District; Atty. and Mrs. Eugene R. Hartman; and officers and wives of the 50-50 Sunday School Class of St. James. Attorney Hartman is district chairman.

Dinner was served after the singing of "America" and the invocation by Dr. Gresh. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Pack Charter by Attorney Hartman to Sterling Muselman, president of the 50-50 Class, sponsors of the pack. The latter will continue to sponsor pack 79. The following names are listed on the charter: Cub Master, John DeHaas; the pack committee, Hardy Nichols, Donald Sheely and Sterling Muselman; and the den mothers, Mrs. Donald Sheely, Mrs. Philip Neth and Mrs. Samuel Swope.

Skit Is Presented
Mr. Morse spoke on Scouting and urged better participation in the boys' activities in the Adams county area. "Only nine per cent of the boys in the county belong to Cub Packs; 24 per cent to the Boy Scouts; and nine per cent to Explorer Scouts," he said.

Mrs. Swope's group, den five, presented a skit on the history of Cub Scouting, and den one, directed by Mrs. Philip Neth, gave a skit on the George Washington theme.

Mr. DeHaas presented badges and pins to the boys who had completed the necessary requirements. The meeting ended with the Cub Scout prayer led by Mr. DeHaas.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR AIR RAID CONDUCT GIVEN

Adams County's automobile owners will find themselves receiving instruction cards on what to do in event of an air raid when they secure their 1953 auto licenses, and then will find themselves undergoing an air raid test drill sometime in April.

Burgess William G. Weaver, Adams County director of Civil Defense, said today the instruction cards will go to all persons in the state applying for auto licenses. The instructions are printed on small cards in size and shape similar to the automobile registration cards. The information (Continued on Page 2)

Reports Figures On York Spring Taxes

York Springs' 144 real estate and 312 occupation taxpayers turned in $9,796.91 to Tax Collector R. C. Hetherington during the past year according to his annual report filed Friday with the county clerk of courts.

Hetherington collected $1,182.36 borough tax, $6,138.22 school district, $1,597.04 county and $879.29 institution district tax. Cost of the collections was $319.85. Outstanding taxes at the end of the year totaled $1,055.11 including $103.70 borough tax, $828.06 school district, $69 county and $54.35 institution district.

Change Subscription Rate

Effective March 1 the subscription rate of The Gettysburg Times will be increased by approximately one-half cent per copy for yearly subscription. This increase is made necessary because of the steadily increasing cost of newsprint, postage and other materials essential in the publication of a newspaper.

The Gettysburg Times has always been one of the few papers in the state with the lowest subscription rate. Most dailies in the country sell for three and four times more than The Times. An increase in the subscription price of The Times was warranted several years ago when the price of newsprint was almost doubled. However, The Times withheld raising its rate hoping for an adjustment in the cost of materials, which, unfortunately, never developed.

The new rate is slightly higher than the old rate which has been in effect for more than 10 years. It will be 70c per month; $1.40 for two months; $2.00 for three months; $4.00 for six months and $7.50 per year. The old rate was $6.00 per year. Single copies will be five cent each.

Birdes A. Jacobs Says He Can Tell Where Water, Oil, Gold Can Be Found, From His Home

Strange powers have been attributed to the Pennsylvania Dutch, among them the ability to "divine" water. Few there are, however, to whom is given this power, and most who claim to have it say it comes not from themselves but is a gift from without.

Birdes A. Jacobs, East Berlin, is one of these. Life-long resident of this locality, descendant of pioneers and early millers, and a former burgess of the borough, Mr. Jacobs claims the ability not only to "divine" water, but also oil and minerals.

The Jacobs family played important roles in the history of the East Berlin section. One of the landmarks of the section is the old Jacobs mill a short distance east of town which belonged to Mr. Jacobs' father, and his father before him.

For many years Amos G. Jacobs, father of Birdes, operated this mill and Birdes learned the milling business as a boy. He lived there until 30 years ago. He lives in East Berlin now, in a red brick home which has been in the family more than 100 years.

9 Weeks Of Schooling
What is there about this "dousing" or "divining" business? Mr. Jacobs claims he never knew he had this power until a number of years ago when the borough of East Berlin was attempting to locate wells to augment its water supply.

It's not education, in the usual sense, because Mr. Jacobs claims he had only nine weeks of formal "schooling." And he says the geologists "don't like me" because they don't "understand how I can tell them where the oil or water is located."

Mr. Jacobs was elected burgess in 1915, he says. (He served for 25 years).

"Before that time East Berlin had built a water works," he recalled. It took water from the Conewago. It was not intended to be used for drinking purposes, but people drank it, and many contracted typhoid. The state made the town put in a filter plant, but that didn't remove the colon and bacilli.

Autry To Give Boots To Larry

One of Larry Kepner's most cherished hopes will be realized this afternoon — and in a bigger way than he ever dreamed.

He will be the recipient of a new pair of cowboy boots at the Gene Autry Show at Zumbo Mosque in Harrisburg this afternoon. Cowboy boots were the present he most wanted for his birthday last Wednesday but difficulty in fitting them over his artificial legs made it impossible to have boots for Larry by his birthday.

Autry, cowboy hero of hundreds of western movies and star of radio and TV, read a story in The Gettysburg Times about how Larry was outfitted with a new pair of legs, and the boy's wish was for a pair of cowboy boots.

Wednesday was Larry's sixth birthday, and Gene read that the youngster's most ardent wish was for a pair of cowboy boots. Immediately, the cowboy telephoned Alex Gordon, his advance representative in Harrisburg, and told Gordon that he would present Larry with the boots on his arrival there, and to invite Larry and his family to the afternoon show at the Zumbo Mosque as his personal guests.

It will be a surprise for Larry, who has been told that he will attend the show, but was not informed of Gene's gift.

The Gene Autry Show will be presented at 2:30 and 8:30 p.m. in the Mosque.

Outstanding taxes totaled more than $2,000.

REPORT $1,000 CONTRIBUTIONS TO HEART FUND

"That there is public appreciation of the effective crusade against the greatest of all killers—heart disease—is attested by the response given the annual Heart drive in Adams County," the Rev. Charles E. Held, vice president and campaign director of the Adams County Heart Association, reported today.

"Tabulations for the first ten days of the current drive show contributions in excess of $1,000," Rev. Held said, "and this places us slightly ahead of the returns for the same period in the 1952 campaign. I have complete confidence we shall reach our goal of $3,500," he declared.

Children Contribute

Rev. Held said contributions are coming from all sections of the county and from all walks of life. They range, he explained, from a few dollars to sums as large as $100. Of special interest, he said, are the contributions of school children and Sunday School classes.

"The Heart Association is doing a great job at all levels. The national and state groups concern themselves with research and special training, while our county group has spotted hospital beds, bedside commodes and oxygen equipment in all parts of the county for home use.

"Forty per cent of our income is allotted to the national and state organizations to finance the all-important research work that has been so effective and has resulted in vast strides in cardiac treatment. The balance is used locally, and if our drive meets the quota this year, our local program will be expanded so as to include rehabilitation instruction."

President Pleased

C. A. Wills, president of the Adams County Heart Association, expressed himself as pleased with the progress of the campaign. "Nevertheless, I urge the early participation of everyone so that the campaign can be concluded at an early date with the required quota," Mr. Wills said.

MAGAZINE HAS PICTURE-STORY OF DUTCH DAYS

Five full color pictures taken of the Adams County Arts and Crafts Guild Pennsylvania Dutch festival held here last June are used in the March issue of American magazine to illustrate an article on the "Pennsylvania Dutch."

Pictures taken by Ozzie Sweet of tiny Holly Hafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Hafer, Carlisle St., garbed in sun bonnet and Dutch costume, of a group of local women in sun bonnets displaying jellies and jams made by them, of Dede Kane and Charlotte Rogers in Dutch costume stirring apple butter in an old iron kettle, of the Little German Band, and singing of the Schmitzbausk song on the post office lawn, and of the quilting party held on Baltimore St. are used in full color as a title page for the story "Let's Go Dutch."

Toured Dutch Country

The article, written by Wayne Amos, relates of a tour he made of the Dutch country. "This country of rolling hills and woods, rich farms; and wonderful food," he writes, "covers the southeastern corner of the state below the Blue Ridge Mountains, Lancaster is in the heart of it. On the eastern edge is George Washington's Valley Forge, symbol of American endurance, and on the western fringe is Gettysburg, where, on the quiet battlefield, you can easily imagine Abraham Lincoln beginning his famous address: 'Four score and seven years ago . . .'"

Mr. Amos notes that "Near Gettysburg is the farm home of another president—Dwight D. Eisenhower." He says of Gettysburg "in June Gettysburg stages its annual Pennsylvania Dutch celebration, with quilting parties in the streets, German bands, butter churning, square dancing and all the girls in sun bonnets."

Two Charges Follow Ortanna Rd. Crash

Charges of driving without an operator's license and driving without a current inspection sticker were placed against Ralph B. Moore, 18, State Sanitarium, Md., following an auto accident Friday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock 100 yards north of Fairfield on the Ortanna Road.

State police, who placed the charges against Moore before Fairfield Justice of the Peace Roger Myers, said the Maryland man had stopped at a stop sign, then decided to turn around. When he backed his vehicle, it rammed into a car operated by Carroll A. Lippy, 24, Abbotstown, who had halted behind Moore. Damage totalled $50. Moore was released upon payment of the fines and costs on the two charges.

MANY OFFICES TO BE FILLED IN NOVEMBER

Adams countians will go to the polls May 19 to nominate approximately 800 persons for public office.

State-wide they will be nominating candidates for two judges of the superior court; in the county they will be naming candidates for sheriff, clerk of courts, county treasurer, and two jury commissioners.

On the local level they will be naming an auditor, an assessor, a tax collector, a complete election board, at least one school director, and in most districts, several school directors, and a road supervisor.

In the boroughs they will also be naming a burgess, various numbers of councilmen in addition to the previously listed officials, with the exception of the road supervisors, who are named only in townships. In addition there is an assortment of constables, and justices of the peace to be named in various localities where vacancies provide openings in those offices.

See Many Write-Ins

How many names will appear on the official ballot is unknown, but election officials were willing to wager that the ballots down among the township offices, will have many blank spaces. Since both Republican and Democratic nominations are to be selected it will take about 800 candidates for the roughly 400 offices that are to be filled.

One expected result is a large number of written-in votes at the primary.

Meantime some petitions for places on the ballot were being presented at the Court House here. Mervin I. Rice, present jury commissioner, Friday afternoon handed in his petition as candidate for another term as jury commissioner on the Republican ballot. He was the first man to present a petition for a county office in the forthcoming primary.

Must Sign Oath

Rice discovered that this year everyone presenting a petition must sign a loyalty oath before the petition will be accepted.

Most of the prospective candidates found the oath already printed on the bottom of their petition, and thus had to swear fealty before they could fill out the petition.

Rice, with an old, form, had to take the loyalty oath on a separate sheet. Placing of the loyalty oath at the bottom of the new petition forms is believed to have been brought about by the Adams County Commissioners Clerk Clarence Smith.

ROBERTS GUILTY OF FIRST DEGREE MURDER; TO ASK FOR NEW TRIAL

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Jonah L. Roberts, slender, graying machine operator, was found guilty of first degree murder last night.

The jury of seven women and five men recommended life imprisonment for the 46-year-old Edwardsville, Pa., machinist. Defense attorneys said they would seek a new trial.

The verdict ended a 17-day trial during which the prosecution charged that Roberts fatally shot his 45-year-old wife, Mary, on a lonely mountain road last June 10, wounded himself in the shoulder and then attempted to place the blame on hitchhikers.

Admitted "Misbehavior" Dist. Atty. Louis G. Feldman told the jurors Roberts plotted his wife's death because of his infatuation with Miss Frances Allen, a 24-year-old factory co-worker.

Roberts insisted on the witness stand that he loved his wife and said his friendship with Miss Allen had been a case of "puppy love" on the part of an older man.

Both Roberts and the Allen girl admitted they went frequently to a tourist cabin on Saturday mornings and spent several hours at a time there. Roberts denied they engaged in any "love making" but conceded both were guilty of "misbehavior."

"Ivanhoe" Will Be At Majestic 5 Days

Robert Taylor, star of the technicolor movie "Ivanhoe" coming to the Majestic theater next Tuesday for five days, fights, rides, jousts, loves and intrigues his way through a role tailor-made to his talents. It is a fitting follow-up to his characterization of Marcus Vinicius in "Quo Vadis" and that of the covered wagon leader in "Westward the Women."

As the lovely young heroine, Rebecca, who sacrifices her love for a cause, the acting talents of Elizabeth Taylor flower into full maturity, coming on top of her highly-praised portrayal in "A Place in the Sun." Joan Fontaine, one of the screen's classic beauties, and an Academy Award winner, appears as Rowena, George Sanders is cast as De Bois-Guilbert, one of the most cruel villains in all literature. Emlyn Williams plays Wamba, the jester.

Robert Douglas, Finlay Currie, Felix Aylmer, Francis de Wolf, Norman Wooland, Basil Sydney and Harold Warrender are among those who have prominent roles in the supporting cast.

The screen play of "Ivanhoe" was written by Noel Langley. The picture was directed by Richard Thorpe, whose "The Great Caruso" proved one of Hollywood's best box office successes. It was produced by Pandro S. Berman, who was previously associated with Elizabeth Taylor, as the producer of "Father of the Bride" and "Father's Little Dividend."

JELKE GUILTY ON TWO COUNTS; SET MARCH 20 FOR SENTENCING

NEW YORK (AP)—Minot (Mickey) Jelke, society playboy and heir to margarine millions, was convicted last night on two of three counts charging him with compulsory prostitution.

The all-male jury recommended mercy for the 23-year-old defendant, whose counsel immediately announced he would appeal the verdict.

The blue ribbon panel deliberated less than five hours to reach a decision, culminating a 25-day trial featuring closed door prosecution testimony by admitted call girls who plied their trade in cafe society circles.

Sentence March 20

General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente scheduled sentencing for March 20. Jelke, pale and shaken by the verdict, was remanded to city prison pending his possible release next week on bail. He faces a maximum of 40 years in jail, 20 years on each count. Under law, the minimum term for compulsory prostitution is two years, but the court has the power to suspend execution of the sentence. The jury's mercy plea in no way binds Judge Valente.

Jelke was convicted of inducing Pat Ward, 19, into prostitution and attempting to do likewise with 25-year-old Marguerite Cordova. The jury acquitted Jelke of trying to force Pat Thompson, 23, into prostitution.

Given $15,000 In 20 Weeks

Although not in court yesterday, Mrs. Teal sat by her son throughout his trial and was his chief witness. She endeavored to show in her testimony that money and gifts she gave her son made it unnecessary for him to seek other sources of income. Mickey's mother remarried after divorcing John Jelke eight years ago.

The prosecution's star witness was Miss Ward, whose real name is Sandra Wisotsky. Miss Ward, mother of an illegitimate child at the age of 17, testified that she gave Jelke some $15,000 of her call girl earnings over a 20-week period late in 1951 and early in 1952.

INSTRUCTIONS

tion cards are published by the State Council of Civil Defense. Motorists are urged to "memorize the instructions designed for your survival."

"Pull Off Road"

The cards instruct the motorists, in the event of an air raid, "to pull to the side of the road and stop, leave lanes open for emergency vehicles and keep all intersections clear, shut off motor and lights, get out and take cover, if handy; otherwise, crouch or lie down in the vehicle; resume travel on 'All Clear' unless otherwise directed."

A card will be enclosed in the small envelope containing the owner's license, when Pennsylvanians receive their new tags and cards. And since there are more licensed drivers than owners, the state council has forwarded to all county directors a supply of the motorist's instruction cards to be distributed throughout the county. Weaver said he has cards available at his offices in the court house and at the fire engine house.

The air raid test in April to check how well motorists carry out the instructions will be held throughout Pennsylvania. Weaver said details of Adams County's participation will be announced when more information is available.

MANY OFFICES

Last year stating that all persons filing for places on the ballot must take the loyalty oath, Smith began to think about all those extra papers. He called the printer of the forms at Harrisburg, asked if the oath could be printed on the petition form so it would all be one piece of paper. The printer thought it a good idea, said he would contact state officials to see if it was proper. The next batch of petition forms received by the county bore the oath imprinted on the petition form.

EX-GRID ACE LOOKS GOOD WITH RED SOX

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Harry Agganis, former Boston University football ace, may join the list of major league baseball stars who successfully switched from end runs to home runs.

Agganis, working out at first base at the Boston Red Sox training camp at Sarasota, Fla., is doing so well Manager Lou Boudreau has indicated he stands an excellent chance of winning a regular berth.

Among the current crop of big leaguers who starred on the gridiron are such stalwarts as Jackie Jensen, Washington Senators (University of California); Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn (UCLA); Alvin Dark, New York Giants (Louisiana State); Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati (Indiana); and Allie Reynolds, New York Yankees (Oklahoma A&M).

Kiner Comes To Trems

Agganis, reportedly given a $60,000 bonus by the Red Sox, hit .332 at Boston University last year, including four home runs, four doubles and three triples. In 1950, just before he got out of the Marines, he compiled a .347 average in service competition.

Dar and Kluszewski were also in the news yesterday along with Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner.

Kiner announced at his Palm Springs, Calif., home he had accepted the Bucs' latest offer calling for an estimated $76,500. Kiner said he had decided to accept General Manager Branch Rickey's terms as outlined in their conference in Hollywood earlier this month.

Dark Holding Out

At Havana, Rickey declared he knew nothing about Kiner having agreed to terms. He intimated that the situation might need further negotiations.

President Horace Stoneham said, at Phoenix, Ariz., the Giants and Dark are still far apart on terms.

"Alvin has received a raise every year since he's been with us," Stoneham declared. Dark is believed to be seeking a $40,000 contract.

Rumors On Waitkus

Kluszewski, who suffered a spike wound in his right hand on Thursday night has been identified as the gunman who held up a Trenton optometrist two hours before the crash.

State police said the optometrist, Dr. Joseph M. Petranto, yesterday positively identified the body of Bernard Garner, Brooklyn, as that of the man who took about $135 from him in the holdup.

Petranto said the holdup occurred about a half hour before the time of entry stamped on Garner's turnpike toll ticket.

Garner was killed when his car plowed into a pillar at the interchange here after an 85-mile-an-hour turnpike chase by State Trooper Mario Baldini.

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—Carmen Basilio of Canastota, N. Y., battles Vic Cardell of Hartford, Conn., tonight in the Toledo Sports Arena and on the ABC television network. The 10-round welterweight bout starts at 9 p. m. (EST).

It will be the first major fight telecast in the Toledo area and fight fans here aren't too sure how they like it. Some 3,500 to 4,000 are expected to attend. But the stay-at-home experts will not be able to view the cast, blacked-out in the arena.

The two 25-year-olds have met before, with Cardell taking the split decision. He's slightly favored in the rematch, and Basilio says he is happy to have the underdog role.

NEW OCCASIONS

Every new experience is a lesson in life. If we are thoughtful we will take advantage of each changing hour, day, or year. We will hoard the essence and make it serve a purpose, if not for the moment, then when most needed, like money banked for the emergency.

From one of the books by Erich Maria Remarque — "The Road Back," I believe it was — he said: "There is no such thing as the same day, the same year, or the same experience. Every day we enter a new world — every day we enter we meet new currents of life. Perhaps this is one reason why we have known and loved."

It is a common experience for each one of us to get wrapped up in the thing at-hand, often forgetting to give credit to those who have contributed to our personal happiness or success. New occasions have a magic to them but we should not allow them to divorce us from the contributed richness on the part of others that has meant so much to us.

Every new day or occasion has its meaning for us. New objectives, new roads to travel. New interpretations, and new friends. We should take care that these "new currents of life" do not carry us too far from the source of our happy existence. It is not a wise idea to drop our pilots throughout life, upon entering new ports! What an asset are our friends, when carried along with us through every "current of life!"

I find myself continually going back in memory to those who have done so much to make life for me worth while. Each new advance in life I look upon as some sort of substance that entered into my inner consciousness along the way. The generosity of a friend, a song, a bit of natural beauty, or an uplifting line from the mind of a great human being, like an engraving in his book. Aliveness is the true success!

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

GETTING HOME
Getting home is best, I say!
Though it's fun to go away,
And there's pleasure in a trip
Overland or on a ship,
Taking you to splendors new,
After all the journey's through,
Makes no difference where you roam,
There's no thrill like getting home.

Maybe with a thumping heart
You look forward to the start,
And you think you'll never get
Quite enough of travel, yet
After you have journeyed far
Where the nation's wonders are,
Soon you'll find you hunger for
All the folks at home once more.

You may laugh and sing and shout
As you wander, in and out
Meeting new friends everywhere,
Seeing glories here and there,
But these joys at last will pall
And you'll wish above it all
For that happiest moment when
You'll be starting home again.

Trips are glorious things to take,
Journeys everyone should make,
There are places good to be,
Much the eye of man should see.
But no matter where you go,
This you'll surely come to know—
Best thing trains can do is when
They get you back home again.

ESKIMOES GET $37,000 AWARD IN COURT CASE

BOSTON (AP)—An Eskimo mother and her four children were awarded $37,000 yesterday in a breach of contract suit against an exhibition they said required them to work 105 hours a week at sportsmen's shows.

Judge Daniel J. Gillen of Municipal Court awarded Mrs. Seelock Mayokuk, 40, $4,400; her sons, Weokona, 20, $9,000, Argutuck, 16, $8,400, and Ogoona, 14, $7,600; and her daughter, Tusruk, 12, $7,600.

The family sued David Irwin of Milford, Pa., for $40,000, charging he did not live up to terms of a contract under which they worked for him between Oct. 1, 1950, and April 1, 1952. They said they worked seven days a week from 9 a. m. to midnight for as little as $30 a person and often were not paid at all.

Defendant Not In Court
The Mayokuks, natives of the Prince of Wales section of Alaska, have been living here since the Boston Sportsmen's Show a year ago.

Irwin did not enter an appearance to defend the suit. Court attaches said that if he does not appear by March 6 he may be defaulted.

SLIGHT DROP IN LIVING COSTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported Friday that living costs dropped two-tenths of one per cent between mid-December and mid-January.

The decline, mainly due to lower retail prices for food and clothing, was reflected in a new consumer price index put out for the first time today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The new index is designed to reflect consumer price changes more accurately than did the one used previously. It prices more items, covers more cities and brings the calculations up to date on new consumer buying habits.

Affects Wages
The new index for mid January is 13.9. Government living cost figures always are a month or so late because of time required to compile them.

The figure means that in mid-January living costs were 13.9 per cent above the average for the 1947-49 period, which is used as the index base. It is 0.7 per cent above a year ago.

Many labor unions had contracts under which wage rates were to be adjusted upward or downward according to changes in the old index.

A spokesman for General Motors Corp. said the new living cost figures indicated a one cent-per-hour decrease in wages for about a half million of its employees.

IKE TAKES FIRST VACATION SINCE TAKING OFFICE

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower put aside White House cares and golfed in the warm Georgia sunshine Friday.

Starting the first full day of a week-end vacation, the President was up early and hustled out to the practice tee at the Augusta National Club shortly after breakfast. He planned an 18-hole round later in the day.

Eisenhower arrived here by plane from Washington late Thursday. The sun was out after a week of rain and the President's good weather luck held again today temperature was in the 60's and there wasn't a cloud in the skies. Newsmen were not allowed on the grounds of the exclusive club where the President is staying. Another request Friday for permission to watch Eisenhower tee off, and for photographers to shoot a few pictures, was rejected by James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary.

First's President's Trip
"The answer is still no," Hagerty said.

Eisenhower got in a little practice immediately after he arrived on Thursday. He whacked balls from the tee for about a half hour.

This is the President's first trip out of the Washington area since his inauguration Jan. 20. He was accompanied from the capital by Mrs. Eisenhower; her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver, Colo., and by a small staff of White House

NIXON FRIEND ACCOUNTS FOR $25,053 FUND

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dana Smith, the Pasadena lawyer who acted as trustee of the controversial Nixon senatorial fund, has filed with Congress a report showing he handled $25,056.63 in contributions during Richard M. Nixon's vice presidential campaign.

The New York Post printed a story about the report Thursday, saying the figures show there was a "Nixon fund of $43,291.63 instead of the modest $18,235 mentioned by the vice presidential candidate" last year.

Bernard Brennan, who was campaign manager for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket in Southern California, termed the newspaper story "a continuation of smear attempts against Nixon."

Nixon himself was not available for comment but his executive assistant, Robert Ladd, said "all questions regarding campaign funds were asked and answered during the campaign."

This was a reference to the telecast last Sept. 23 when Nixon discussed the senatorial fund handled by Smith. The fund had become a major campaign issue.

Nixon said in that telecast a group of Californians had contributed $18,235 to help defray some of Nixon's senatorial expenses which he did not think should be charged to the government.

According to an audit made public at the time, the fund dated back to Nov. 15, 1950.

Smith said two days after the telecast that Nixon's appearance had touched off a flood of campaign contributions and that these would be accounted for after the election.

His report of contributions to the Nixon vice presidential campaign was filed with the clerk of the House on Dec. 29. Smith said the $25,056.63 covered contributions from the time Nixon was nominated for the vice presidency in July until Dec. 26, 1952.

CAN'T EXEMPT AMISH CHILDREN

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Justice Department ruled Friday that it has no authority to exempt Amish children from compliance with the state's compulsory school attendance law.

The ruling was made in a letter from Atty. Gen. Robert E. Woodside to Gov. John S. Fine. The governor was asked last September to permit Amish children to leave public schools for home and farm work at an early age.

"We are convinced that the superintendent of public instruction has no power by regulation or otherwise to issue a work permit solely on the basis that a child is from an Amish or Mennonite family," Woodside said in the opinion.

The Amish group had asked for special regulations to permit Amish children to leave school at age 14. Under present state law a child may quit school at 17. He or she can leave at 16 for a lawful employment if a work permit is obtained from the school board.

At 15, the pupil may leave school for farm work or domestic service in a private home under a work permit. A 14-year old child can quit for farm or domestic work if he or she has completed the elementary school in the district.

In rural areas the elementary course usually runs eight grades.

DECORATE MEN FOR BOMBING

SEOUL (AP)—The Silver Star for gallantry in action was awarded Thursday to Col. William W. Ingenuh, Montgomery, Ala., commanding officer of the 474th Fighter-Bomber Wing, for leading a daring bomb attack on the Suho power complex on the Yalu River, Feb. 15.

It was the first time the strategic target had been hit by the Fifth Air Force since the record air strike last June 23. That strike on the Suho hydro-electric plant, then the fourth largest in the world, deprived most of North Korea and much of Manchuria of badly needed electricity. Recent photo reconnaissance indicated the Reds had been able to repair a few generators.

For participation in the same action, these Pennsylvanians were awarded clusters added to Air Medals:

Lt. John Glina, Bethlehem, Pa., third Oak Leaf Cluster; Lt. Howard P. Weidner, 319 S. Broad St., Myerstown, Pa., second Oak Leaf Cluster.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Lewis Kroft visited during the past week at the York Hospital where his aged grandmother, Mrs. Rider of the Spring Grove area, has been under treatment for a hip fracture.

Jack Glatfelter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Glatfelter and a freshman at West Chester State Teachers College, was a visitor during the week at the home of his parents.

A covered dish supper was a feature of the party given recently by the Gleasons Class of Trinity Lutheran Sunday School. In charge of this were the teacher and class president, William H. Hildebrand and Mrs. Charles L. Gentzler.

Ruth Ellen Leister was absent from the local school this week as the result of the recent serious influenza attack she suffered.

Senate Votes Resolution Condemning Red Prosecution

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's 79-0 vote for a resolution condemning Russian persecution of Jewish and other minorities points toward similar overwhelming support for President Eisenhower's denunciation of the Soviet's "subjugation of free peoples."

The Senate was as unanimous as it ever gets in formally criticizing "the vicious and inhuman" persecutions by Russia and its satellites of ethnic and religious groups.

Fifteen of 17 absent senators sent word they would have voted for the resolution, leaving only Senators Cordon (R-Ore) and Jenner (R-Ind) not officially recorded.

List Of Complaints
As approved yesterday, the resolution put the Senate on record as asking the President to appeal to the United Nations for "suitable" action against Soviet acts of persecution.

Specifically the measure protested the persecution of Greek Orthodox congregations; imprisonment of Roman Catholic prelates; harassment of Protestant dominations; suppression of Moslem communities; persecution of the scattering of racial groups in Poland, the Ukraine, in Balkan and Baltic states; and the "increasing persecution" of the Jews.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) told the Senate before it acted that Russia's anti-Semitic campaign was directed at "winning over the Arab states" and gaining access "to the oil of the Near and Middle East."

"Horrid The World"
Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the foreign relations committee said the Russian actions have "horridified the entire civilized world."

Originally directed only at Russian persecution of the Jews, the resolution was broadened at the suggestion of the State Department to include other groups as part of the administration's war of nerves against the Communists.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, said he believes the Senate will give speedy and overwhelming approval next week to a resolution condemning Soviet violations of World War II agreements "which have been perverted to bring about the subjugation of free peoples." It also expresses hope for liberation of Iron Curtain nations.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee unanimously approved the resolution yesterday in the exact form in which it was submitted to Congress by President Eisenhower. It will be ready for House action next week.

MSA TRIES TO CUT RED TRADE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Mutual Security Administration says it has acted to keep ships from getting into the Red China trade after MSA pays their way to the Far East.

An MSA official said the ships affected by this squeeze on Communist bloc commerce would be principally those flying Western European flags and hauling MSA-financed fertilizer and other cargo from European ports to Formosa.

Such a trip, he estimated, is worth $90,000 to $100,000 in transportation fees.

An MSA rule announced yesterday requires ships to agree not to touch at Red Chinese, Siberian or Russian satellite ports in Europe for 60 days after discharging cargo at the Nationalist Chinese island.

Arthur G. Syran, director of transportation for MSA, said the 60-day period was adopted because that was long enough to make it unprofitable for a ship to wait out the specified time.

Enforcement is provided by holding back 25 per cent of the transportation fee for MSA cargo until it is evident the ship is not going into the Red trade.

Only persons who have been dead for ten years can qualify for election to the Hall of Fame.

SIXTH DROP IN FARM PRICES IS STIRRING FIGHT

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new sag in farm prices—the sixth drop in as many months—added new fuel today to the sizzling dispute between Republicans and Democrats about who is to blame and what to do.

The Agriculture Department yesterday officially announced a decline of 1.48 per cent from mid-January to mid-February which put levels 8.64 per cent below a year ago.

This decline—plus a defense of Republican farm policies and of Secretary of Agriculture Benson—touched off a lively exchange of verbal brickbats in the Senate late yesterday.

Announces Moves
Secretary Benson announced several price-support moves expected to stabilize the farm price levels. He said the department for another year will continue to support butter and other dairy products at 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a price officially declared to be fair to farmers in terms of what they must buy.

The Agriculture Department announced also that it will support this year's corn crop at a national average of $1.58 a bushel, two cents below last year's support, and rice at $4.84 a hundred pounds, down 20 cents from last year.

Blames Democrats
Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, ranking Republican and appropriations committee chairman, started the Senate wrangle by blaming recent Democratic administrations for lower farm prices and income and "unmanageable surpluses."

for a filter plant. We got a firm to drill wells. They asked: 'Can you hunt water?' 'No,' I said, 'I know nothing about it.' They said: 'We believe you can.' They gave me a glass of water with a half dollar suspended on a string. I found a place where the coin swung backwards and forwards. They went down 250 feet and found water."

Mr. Jacobs says the farmers throughout the area learned of this and appealed to him to help them find water so they could drill wells. "I could find the water, but I couldn't tell the depth," he says. "A well driller told me to get a stick and hold it over the spot. The stick began to dip. I made 38 dips. They drilled down 38 feet, and got water."

What is this power? Mr. Jacobs says he doesn't know, except that it is a power from without. He believes, he says, in God, the Bible and a spirit world, and perhaps this is it. "I neutralize myself completely and let these outside forces, whatever they may be, do the work."

Claims Supernatural Power
Mr. Jacobs' faith in God, he says, goes beyond secular lines. Denominations mean nothing to him. "I believe in God, and I believe I was put on earth to do certain work," he says. "When that work is done and my time comes, God will take me."

There is no other explanation, so far as Mr. Jacobs is concerned, for this strange power. "I never boast," he says. "Here is something that just works for me. I don't know what it is. The world does not care, however, to believe in the things that are beyond the material side."

Mr. Jacobs visited a cousin.

He said the new Eisenhower administration and Secretary Benson would "restore again to American agriculture stability, freedom of action and local control."

These remarks drew instant protests from Democrats, with Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Kerr (D-Okl.) leading the attack.

Sees Depression
"There is a depression in the making," Humphrey said, adding that farm prices were off 11 points while consumers food costs had dropped less than 2 per cent.

"This is the beginning of the repudiation of a campaign pledge," Humphrey continued, after contending that during the last election campaign President Eisenhower promised farmers 100 per cent parity.

Charles Jacobs, at Sand Springs, Mont., in 1950, and helped locate oil wells there. He claims that, like Henry Gross, the Maine man who allegedly located water in Bermuda without leaving his native state, he can tell where water, oil or gold can be found without leaving his East Berlin home.

"It's Not Witching"
Take oil, for instance. Seated in a straight-back chair near his wood-burning kitchen stove, Mr. Jacobs gave a "demonstration."

"Going down the hill from the (Cousin Charles) place, to the right is an oats patch. Is there an oil deposit in the oats patch?"

The rod, which Mr. Jacobs cut from a small tree in his yard a short time earlier, said there was. It then proceeded, in answer to more questions, to indicate the depth of the oil, tell whether it was of good, medium or poor quality, and what flow could be expected, and for how long.

How? He says he doesn't know. "It's only my firm belief in a Supreme Being and a spirit world," he says. "It's not 'witching'."

Mr. Jacobs relates another "dousing" experience in his own words. "In 1951, with Paul Jacobs and his wife of East Berlin and Charles Baumgardner of Front Royal, Va., I came through Deadwood, S. D. on our way to Rushmore National Park. I was seated in the rear of the car on the right hand side with Mr. Baumgardner to my left.

"Overwhelming Force"
"I had taken along a staff from Montana (Sinking Springs) should I need it. In an instant, some distance out of Deadwood, an almost overwhelming force seized upon me and I felt I was just about to be thrust out of that car through the rear door. I ordered the driver to stop that car at once. I jumped out and immediately got strong action on my stick."

"I knew, or thought I knew, that I was many miles out of the oil country. It told me it was gold country 605 feet down. There are five veins there running parallel for 20 miles. There are lead quartz veins separating the gold quartz veins for some distance. Deadwood now has the largest gold mines in the U. S."

"At another time I was at Dover, Del. on the coastal plain and I found plenty of evidence of oil deposits from Delaware Bay and even under the water westward as far as I tested. The evidence was the same as in Montana."

Having disposed of the subject of SMALL WONDER—Jules Charbonneau, San Francisco, holds completely-detailed cash register of sterling silver, latest addition to his collection of 30,000 miniatures.

"divining" water and oil, Mr. Jacobs says: "Let me take you to Peru. The Incas developed a pagan civilization there. When the Spaniards came, they found gold, great hoards of Inca gold. But they didn't get all of it. The Incas buried much of their treasure."

From the same kitchen chair he asked the divining rod: "Is there a gold hoard, or gold vessels buried in Peru?" The rod answered "Yes." Then came more questions, and the rod indicated that this gold is buried in the northwest part of Titicaca Island, the sacred island of the Incas, in Titicaca Lake, high in the Andes.

Addressing the rod again, Mr. Jacobs said: "It is reported in history that Inca girls carried a gold chain in their ceremonies on the sacred island, and threw it into the lake when the Spaniards came. Is this a myth or is this a fact?" The rod dipped up and down, and Mr. Jacobs said: "It is a fact." He even learned from the rod, he said, that it is 33 feet, four inches in length, and weighs 1,534 pounds and seven ounces and would be valued at today's price of gold at $997,000.

Survived 2 Heart Attacks
Anything will do for a divining rod, according to Mr. Jacobs, a branch, a cutting from a rose bush, or from a grape vine.

He places great faith in his belief that he will be allowed to remain on earth until his worth here is done, and says this must be so, since he has had, he says, pneumonia eight times, has had two heart attacks and suffered a broken hip. He and a brother-in-law, David Bortner, keep "bachelors' quarters" together.

Although 81 years old, (he was born on February 29, 1872) Mr. Jacobs is active and is employed regularly as a bookkeeper at the Hanover Ice Co. in Hanover, owned by a second cousin, Paul E. Jacobs. He is also a student of Pennsylvania Dutch and has written considerable on this subject.

Here's some handy kitchen arithmetic: There are two cups of cups of sifted confectioners' sugar in a pound.

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Member S.A.E.

The brass that used to be on the radiator now seems to be in a lot of discourteous drivers.

What's Your Speed

It is surprising how many people these days do not know just exactly how fast they are traveling. Tests of one of the late model cars showed that owners were traveling 55 when they thought they were going 60. Fortunately it is mainly on the plus side that speedometers are so often found inaccurate, this probably saving a lot of lives. However, in traveling it sometimes works the other way because when the tourist finds that he isn't making a good average he may decide to speed up at the end of the day when he is not as alert.

Speedometers can be on the minus side, too, and sometimes changing tire sizes will affect their reading. It is a smart idea to have the speedometer checked now and again. It's good insurance.

Pick The Lower Speed

It's just a brief thought but remember that if the front wheels break into a shimmy your safest bet is to drive at a speed below the "shimmy" speed and not drive at a speed above it, even if the shimmy disappears at a higher pace. Shimmy is usually due to unbalance, and at higher speed this puts more of a strain on both tire and front end.

If there is one thing winter emphasizes for the benefit of the car owner is the fact that some very unfamiliar noises develop because of the cold. A piston slap is one of the star performers here. You get it most when the engine is chilled, disappearing when things warm up. Another cold noise is a loose heat valve in the exhaust manifold. It can rattle in the grand manner and fool the driver into suspecting all sorts of trouble with the car. It, too, vanishes when the motor warms up. Still another rattler is a shock absorber that doesn't have enough fluid or which may be suffering from looseness. Shocks do a hard day's work, so often when they get down to business they stop complaining.

Keep These In Mind

Adjusting spark plug gap should be done by moving the electrode attached to the shell. Bending the center electrode may crack the insulator.

Failure to remove the ridge at the top of each cylinder in a well worn engine is the main reason new rings may be damaged. Mechanics use a ridge reamer to remove these obstructions.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"One thing I have found in my long years of catering to automobiles is the importance of starting from scratch again whenever a remedy doesn't seem to work. It is the same with trying to start a reluctant motor on a cold morning."

"If the initial starting effort fails the next step is to crank a few seconds with the throttle wide open. This admits more air and has a sort of de-choking effect. Obviating the possibility of the engine being overchoked we are then back to where we started and can make a fresh start toward getting the engine into action."

Has Effect On Steering

Weak springs are a real factor in much that passes for misalignment of the front end. What happens is that tilting of the car, fore or aft, affects caster. In some fortunate cases caster is altered in such a way that it actually makes for better steering and longer tire wear, but the thing is more apt to work in reverse. Caster is the backward tilting of the front wheels, the situation being similar to that with with rollers on heavy furniture. Naturally if the rear end of the car sags there will be more caster than normal. A forward tilting from weak front springs would result in negative caster.

Beyond His Control

When they brought in a car with a broken differential case the owner started explaining that he did not strike a rock or otherwise abuse the car. But they assured him that this could be due to improper adjustment of the differential bearings or to excessive ring gear clearance. He wasn't guilty of it at all but they warned him to avoid overloading the rear end with luggage and passengers and to check any erratic clutch action that might develop.

Technique With Sanders

An important point to bear in mind when using sanders to check skidding is that your driving technique has much to do with the effectiveness of the plan. Best results are had when the brakes are applied intermittently. Unless this pumping technique is used a sander will reduce the stopping distance only about 10 per cent as against 25 when a skilled driver is at the wheel. It reminds me of the way many drivers used to get trapped when using chains. They would have chains applied and then proceed to increase their driving speed. Sometimes in a panic stop they would forget to pump on the brake pedal, this allowing the tires to slide on bare spots between the cross chains.

It is important with sanders that the right kind of grit is used. Round grains of sand are too smooth.

Once Over Lightly

I am frequently asked if dusting cloths are likely to scratch the car's finish. The answer here lies in how the dusting is done. Do not rub hard and do not attempt to use such cloths for polishing after they have removed dust. Only clean, soft cloths should be used for polishing the cleaned surface. Best way to use special dusting cloths is to go over the surface lightly as one would dust household furniture. If the cloth has sufficient chemical in its texture it will pick up the dust easily.

Time For A Change

Now that competition is coming along again in dead earnest I join with many motoring enthusiasts in the belief that some of the car makers will be adding other instruments to the dash. The instrument panel needs a little pepping up, and many useful pieces of equipment are ready to be made standard equipment. Performance meters are not new but they should be more widely used in order to take the guesswork out of checking car behavior. For highest economy and efficiency every car should be equipped with a vacuum gauge. And a tachometer to show motor speed would be most useful to users of automatic transmissions. There is no question but that shoppers always are disappointed when they get behind the wheel of a much advertised car and find that the instrument panel has nothing but the conventional meters.

In The Motor Mail

Q. Is it still a good idea to race the engine momentarily a few times if there is any hint that poor performance is due to a dirty carburetor? K. L. McN.

A. This may get rid of a little dirt or water, but it won't have any effect on gummy deposits. Better have the unit cleaned.

Q. Why is it that I get such poor mileage from fan belts? I have replaced the belt several times in two years. R. L.

A. Apparently the pulleys for the fan and the generator are not in line with the one on the crankshaft. Belts are badly punished under such conditions. Also don't over-tighten the belt.

Q. Should the car be left in reverse or forward gear when parked headed down a steep hill? F. V. Jr.

A. Reverse is the lowest gear and the safest for such parking. The engine has the same compression regardless of which way the crankshaft is turned. But when parking on a hill cut the front wheels to the curb. Block one of the rear wheels with a large stone if there is no curbing.

Q. What is the average life of automobiles scrapped today as compared with the year 1930 or thereabouts? J. K. K.

A. Latest available figures show that in 1950 the average ran around 13.5 years as compared with 7 in 1930. In 1925 it was 6.5.

Q. On a trip South I found that the lubricant in the rear axle housing became very thin even though I did not drive faster than usual. Replaced the lube but got the same results. It thinned out so badly some of it leaked into the right rear brake. H. N. N.

A. Better check the axle housing. It may be sprung.

Q. There's a peculiar popping noise in one of the front brakes when I stop the car. This is a new one to me, and so far I have not had a satisfactory explanation. Wm. L. K.

A. On the particular type brakes on your car you would get this condition if the brake shoe return springs are incorrectly assembled.

Q. There is leakage of lubricant from the gearbox on my car. Have not used too much lube, and the cover gasket is tight. There is no evidence of a cracked case or cover. T. L. S.

A. I would check this transmission for worn shifter shafts.

Q. The windshield wipers of my car operate very slowly since installing new blades. I have checked for leakage in the line to the intake manifold. The wiper motor was operating properly before I changed blades. A. McV.

A. You may find that the new blades simply press too hard against the windshield.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford, 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

Eisenhower Revitalizes Our "Faith In Prayer"

First Thought Is Of God
Millions of Americans, witnessing this never-to-be-forgotten act of faith which was no formal gesture but a sincere, moving appeal for Divine aid, experienced a rededication to love of God and country. That simple prayer did more to thwart the spread of atheistic communism and advance the cause of peace than guns, planes and ships will ever accomplish. Stalin isn't afraid of our material defenses, but he is afraid of our God.

Yes, history will never forget that Dwight David Eisenhower's first act as President of the United States was to pray to Almighty God. Never was the need so urgent for a return to religion and prayer as a way of life for both individuals and governments. The president put it simply when he said at a recent breakfast prayer meeting that "government makes no sense unless it is founded on a deeply religious faith."
